

VGYAAN Pharmaceuticals Joins End Drug Shortages Alliance

March 8, 2023

Skillman, New Jersey – VGYAAN Pharmaceuticals announced today it has joined a new coalition of diverse stakeholders to address drug shortages in the United States. The End Drug Shortages Alliance provides a forum for key stakeholders to take strategic aim at one of health care’s more pressing and enduring issues, drug shortages that disrupt patient care.

“Supply chain disruptions and drug shortages continue to impact care and care delivery,” said Nailesh A. Bhatt, CEO of VGYAAN Pharmaceuticals. “As a member of the alliance, we will work to develop meaningful strategies that are in alignment with various stakeholders in the market to address these critical issues.”

Nimisha Vyas Bhatt, COO of VGYAAN Pharmaceuticals added, “We believe that no single entity can tackle the issue of drug shortages and it is important to collaborate, bring transparency, and new ideas to address this challenge. We are excited about our participation in the alliance.”

The End Drug Shortages Alliance was launched in late 2021 to bring together industry stakeholders, including providers, group purchasing organizations, manufacturers, distributors and other industry thought leaders and champions. Efforts will focus on improving access to medications through greater transparency across market participants, leading to improved quality manufacturing of medications and production of additional supply.

"We are grateful to have VGYAAN Pharmaceuticals join the alliance to end drug shortages," said Eric Tichy, division chair of pharmacy supply solutions for Mayo Clinic, who serves as the Chair for the Alliance advisory board. "Collaboration among organizations strengthens our ability to improve the quality of life for patients that rely on these medications. Together, we can make a difference."
